Kingfisher Reserve_Open Space/Historic Public Art Case Study

1) Allows public to see the space in a new light. Artwork is a suitable scale for the space (including large scale mural, not pictured)
2) Artwork specifically created for the location and unique qualities of the site. Relevant to the local history
3) Artwork is durable and suitable to outdoor conditions while maintaining aesthetic and historical integrity
4) Seating placed under shelters to encourage social
5) Celebrates previous Homestead by using original stone to replicate the homestead footprint
7) Artwork is safe for public interaction, and fosters engagement
6) Inclusion of interpretive signage
Kingfisher Reserve