Good Morning Adaptation Practitioners Network and friends and partners of AdaptWest,

Please accept our invitation to the AdaptNow – Changing for Climate Change event to be held at the Woodville Town Hall on Wednesday October 27th (doors open 6pm). The event will also be livestreamed to YouTube for those who can not attend in person.

AdaptWest have been undertaking a significant body of work funded under the Disaster Risk Reductions Scheme. This has included a series of workshops and business briefing run in conjunction with URPS.

We have engaged the filmmaker Living Stories to produce a number of key resources, some of which will be premiered at the event.

AdaptNow! - Facing extreme heat, smoke and localised flooding in Western Adelaide we pose the question of how will you adapt, what will you do, how will you work with your community to face the challenges of adapting to a changing climate?

A panel of experts have been assembled who will be grilled in a hypothetical hosted by the ABC's Rory McClaren about how to deal with a cascading series of events including a heatwave, bushfire smoke, power outages and flash flooding in the western suburbs.

As the world's leaders prepare to gather for the UN Climate Change Conference in Glasgow, AdaptWest will examine how to prepare for extreme weather events and provide strategies for communities and businesses to adapt and build resilience in the face of climate change.

Please feel free to share with friends and colleagues. I look forward to seeing you there!
