2021 UDIA Awards for Excellence winners announced

4th November 2021

The winners of the UDIA (SA) Awards for Excellence were announced last Friday at the development sector's biggest event of the year — the annual UDIA Gala Dinner.

Three industry professionals were celebrated for their leadership in urban development while 14 developments across both the private and public sectors were recognised as the State's best of the best.

Social and Community Infrastructure Award

Congratulations to City of Whyalla for winning the Social and Community Infrastructure Award for the Whyalla Circular Jetty Project.

The Judges said “An iconic project that demonstrates how the delivery of key infrastructure can have a profound positive outcome for a community, realising significant social and economic benefits and becoming a catalyst for further development.”

“This jetty is far more than a replacement for the previous jetty. It is a community facility that is now easily accessible for the disabled and it has not only brought more visitors to Whyalla but has helped transform the way Council is thinking about how to regenerate the city. The jetty is also a catalyst for more economic development in the locality”.

Two commendations were also given to City of Unley for Design King William and Mount Barker District Council for the Summit Sport and Recreation Park – Stage 1.

Public Sector Award renamed to the Greg Waller Award

In a first for the UDIA (SA), the former Public Sector Award was named and presented in honour of our late public sector colleague, Greg Waller.
