International Public Works Conference 2022

30th March 2022

The IPWEA International Public Works Conference, the largest infrastructure asset management conference held in Australasia ,will be held at the Adelaide Convention Centre from 1-5 May

The IPWEA International Public Works Conference, the largest infrastructure asset management conference held in Australasia ,will be held at the Adelaide Convention Centre from 1-5 May

The IPWC covers current best practice, case studies and leading-edge initiatives in this core business area of public works. Developed by the industry for the industry, the conference will be full of practical takeaways from speakers plus panel discussions

Opening Keynote speaker Shane Fitzsimmons needs no introduction in facing adversity. In 2022 eastern Australia is experiencing devastating flooding not seen before. This comes only 2 years after the horrific bush fires. As the inaugural head of Resilience NSW, Shane has faced the floods of 2022 and is tasked with preparing Australia's most populous state for an uncertain future.

One of the many highlights of the 2022 Conference is the introduction of emerging technology forums, which will focus specifically on asset tracking and monitoring, street lighting and smart controls, and smart parking. There will be panel discussions from experts on deploying asset tracking, smart lighting and smart parking systems, with information on the growing array of technologies and suppliers that can help our members successfully deliver these systems.

Special offers:

1. Very Small rural/remote councils (population <5,000) are now eligible for the same registration rate as International Delegates, a saving of over $500. Further, the Early Bird rate is still available to these councils, a further saving of $400, giving a total reduction of $900 on the full registration fee.
2. Scholarship available to members of IPWEA SA: A scholarship covering the cost of a full IPWC registration, and associated travel and accommodation costs, is now available to members of IPWEA SA. It should be noted that young members and those from regional councils are particularly encouraged to apply.

To pursue either of these offers, contact Sean Lewis on sean.lewis@ipwea.org or 0466 256 736.

If you are in asset management, public works, a consultant, a supplier of infrastructure, a CEO or elected member this event is not to be missed.
